ALBERT,

WHO was bred by Col. John Hofkins, of King and Queen county, Virginia, has lately arrived from him, to my stable in Scott county, and will commence this season the 1st day of April, and may cover mares at 18 dollars on a promissory attested note, payable the 1st day of August ensuing, (when the season will end) which may be discharged with 15 dollars if paid within the season; 9 dollars the single leap, to be paid at the stable door before the covering of the mare; if she should take the horse a second time, in that case 9 dollars will be demanded as above, then the mare shall be considered as entitled to the season; 30 dollars to insure a mare to be in foal, but it is to be expressly understood that if any person putting a mare, shall part with her before it is certainly known whether she be in foal or not, shall be answerable for the insurance money; in each case one half dollar to the groom. Large and extensive pasturage of clover, blue-grass and timothy, well inclosed gratis, for mares from any distance exceeding twelve miles—mares will be furnished with corn plentifully for 35. per week, for all those who may so direct. All imaginable attention will be paid, but will not be answerable for any casualties, or escapes that may happen. Boys coming with mares may have their board gratis.

ROBERT SANDERS.

March 7, 1863.

The thorough bred Horse ALBERT, was got by Americus, his dam by Wild-Air, his grand dam by Vampier, out of Col. Braxton's imported mare, Kitty Filler; Americus was got by the imported horse Shark, which was the best race horse that ever came to America; Shark was got by Mask, his dam by Stafo's Snap, his grand dam by Marlboro, out of a natural barb mare—Wild-Air was got by Fearnought, Fearnought by Regulus, Regulus by the Godolphin Arabian—Vampier was got by Regulus, which was got by the Godolphin Arabian—Kitty Filler was got by Cade, which was got by the Godolphin Arabian—Albert's dam was the dam of Melzar, Kitty Medley, Minerva, Americus and Rosetta; and they have proved themselves to be the best stock in America. Albert will be five years old next April, is a bay roan, five feet two inches high.

JOHN HOSKINS,

King & Queen county. Teste, February 5, 1863. Wm. Shortridge, Francis Kerr, John Edwards.

Take Notice,

That I shall attend the commissioners appointed by the county court of Montgomery county, in pursuance of an act of Assembly in that case made and provided at Berry's mill, on Lulburg creek, in Montgomery county, on the 18th day of April next, if fair, if not, the next fair day, and continue from day to day, until the business hereafter mentioned, may be completed; to take the depositions of such witnesses as I may deem necessary to perpetuate the testimony of, for the establishment of the calls, the beginning and corners of a claim of land in the county aforesaid, being 316 acres, entered in the name of James M'Millan, and to do such other acts as may be necessary and agreeable to law.

A GREAT BARGAIN.

For Sale,

TWO HUNDRED AND SIX ACRES OF LAND, on the North fork of Licking, five miles from Washington, Mason county; on which is a Mill, with three pair of Stones, and new Running Gear; a Dwelling House, 80 feet long; a Stone Sill House, which will make 250 gallons of whiskey per week; a Cooper's shop and all other convenient houses, and twenty acres of Meadow.—One third Cash will be required. For particulars, apply to Messrs. TROTTER & SCOTT, Lexington, or to the subscriber in Washington, Mason county. ROBERT B. MORTON.

March 14, 1863.

MEDLEY,

A FULL bred horse, will stand at my stable in Scott county, near Georgetown, and will be let to mares at Five Dollars the leap, to be paid when the mare is covered; Ten Dollars the season, which may be discharged with Hemp, delivered at any rope walk in Lexington, or Whiskey, at the market price, delivered at my house, if paid within the season; or Twenty Dollars to insure a mare to be with foal. As I am not in immediate want of money, those that choose to put their mares by the season or insurance, if they will send their notes with the mare for the money, I will not call on them for the amount, until we can sell our produce to greater advantage down the river. If any of those mares put by insurance should prove to be with foal, their notes shall be returned. Any person putting five mares shall have one gratis. The season will commence on the 10th of March, and expire on the 10th of August. Good pasturage gratis, for mares that may come more than 20 miles. Great care will be taken, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes.

MEDLEY is near sixteen hands high, elegantly formed, his mettle & activity equal with any horse whatever. I have the following certificate in my possession, signed by forty-five respectable gentlemen, in Virginia, to prove him a good foal getter.

WE do certify, that we believe the stud horse Medley, sold by Capt. Valentine Johnson, of Orange county, Virginia, to Maj. Rhodes Thomson, of Scott county, and state of Kentucky, is as good and sure a foal getter as ever stood amongst us; his colors are fine large and promising.

Given under our hands this 7th day of December 1862.

MEDLEY was got by Hart's old imported Medley, his dam by the old imported horse Aristotle, his grand dam by the old imported horse Fearnought, out of a mare imported by Col. Baylor.

RODES THOMSON.

28th February, 1863.

Medley has always stood in Virginia, at fifteen dollars the season, paid by new-year's day, or ten dollars paid within the season.

SPREAD EAGLE,

WILL cover this season in Lexington, at Thirty Dollars Cash, each mare, and One Dollar to the groom; or approved notes from such persons as can be strictly relied on, payable on or before the first of September following. The season to commence the twentieth of March, and continue to the first of September 1863. Spread Eagle and Sterling are brothers from sire, and out of sisters—He is of superior size—bone, blood, and beauty inferior to none—He is a beautiful bay, nearly sixteen hands high; well proved as a race horse—Running four mile heats with twelve stone on his back, as appears from the Racing Calendar, New Market, London, from the years 1795, to 1798—after which he is there noted, sent to America to Colonel John Hoopes, in Virginia, at the Bowling Green; where he the last season that he made there, covered two hundred and thirty four mares in preference to any imported horse in that state. I will furnish good pasture gratis for mares that come a distance, and every attention will be paid them, but will not be responsible in case of accidents or escapes. The mares may be furnished with grain and Red Clover, &c. if required by the proprietor, and at his expense.—Mares warranted to be in foal, at Fifty Dollars the season. Wm. T. BANTON.

SPREAD EAGLE.

HE was bred by Sir Frank Standish, Bart. was got by Volunteer, his dam by Highflyer, grand dam by Engineer, out of the dam of Bay Malton and Treasurer—He was got by Cade, out of the Lais of the Mill, by Old Traveller—Young Grehound—Partner—Woodcock—Croft's Bay Barb—Makele's Brimmer—Son of Dodsworth—Burton Barb Mare.

Spread Eagle, in New Market Craven Meeting, 1795, being the first time he ever started, won a Sweepstakes of 100 guineas each, hundred feet across the Flat, (7 subscribers) beating Mr. Dawson's Diamond, and two others. In the following meeting he won the second class of the Prince's stakes of 100 guineas each, beating Lord Egremont's brother to Calomel, & three others. At Epsom Spring Meeting, same year, he won the Derby Stakes of 50 guineas each, hundred feet, (45 subscribers) beating with the greatest ease, Caulitic, Pelter, Diamond, Viret, &c. after which he was taken very ill with the distemper, and never recovered his form of racing, which, till then, was allowed to be most capital.

In 1796, he won a Sweepstakes of 100 guineas each, at York, (8 subscribers) and was second for the great subscription there, beating Sober Robin.

In 1798, at New Market, he came second for the Craven Stakes, when twelve started, beating Druid, Gas, Bennington, &c. and won the King's plate of 100 guineas, carrying 12th, the Round Course, beating Bennington, and Lord G. H. Cavendish's Bay Horse by Jupiter.

March 1, 1863.

ROZINANTE,

A FINE large Jack Ass, (from Mexico) thirteen hands high, strong and well made, four years old this spring, will be let to mares the ensuing season, on the subscriber's farm, adjoining the town of Lexington, at Ten Dollars the season, to be paid in Cash, or Hemp at the market price.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

To the General Assembly of the State of Ohio.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and
Of the House of Representatives,

WE now exhibit another sovereign, free and independent state, organized N. West of the Ohio, which is about to be added to that confederated government, emphatically filled "the worlds best hope;" many of our citizens have, with anxiety, looked forward to that period, and not without reason, when they should become a free people, and I sincerely congratulate you and them, that they have now an entire legislature of their own choice, assembled under a constitution sacred to liberty; a constitution which rests upon equal rights and displays a pure representative system; a constitution whereby the rulers are derivable from and amenable to, the people; a constitution calculated to excite in all our citizens a patriotic zeal; by giving each individual an opportunity, by merit, of being called upon to participate in the government, that all may strive habitually to feel and distinctly understand, its first principles.

The period wherein we commence our national existence is peculiarly auspicious; the government of the United States respected abroad, strong in the confidence of its citizens at home, and by a wise and prudent policy in lopping off all extraneous excrescences from the body politic, requires less fiscal exactions to preserve it in its pristine health & constitutional vigour; the good effects resulting therefrom to us, in our first effort towards self-government, are evident; and it is a pleasing reflection that the sons of Ohio, conscious of the tender solicitude and lively interest manifested for the happiness and welfare of every portion of the American people, as well as for the evident results of an enlightened policy, are fast progressing with their fellow citizens in the other states, towards a union of sentiment & affection.

The recent embarrassments to our infant commerce, occasioned by the irregularities at New-Orleans, we have every reason to believe will soon be removed by the prompt and efficacious measures taken by the president of the United States, and which has been aided by the minister of his catholic majesty; and from the embassy which has been lately adopted, we may further hope, that our situation will be bettered, by placing our commerce on a footing not liable to similar interruptions in future. If however, the just and natural expectations of government should be frustrated, we are consoled by the lively sensibility excited in the general government, and in every part of the union, for the situation of their western brethren, and although every friend to humanity may have to regret the dernier resort, yet it is as much impossible to prevent the Mississippi from discharging its vast contents, swelled with the numerous navigable rivers with which it is nourished, into the bosom of the ocean, as to prevent, at the call of government, of whose magnanimity I have no doubt, those brave and intrepid citizens who are every where settled on their banks and fertile plains, from asserting their natural and acquired rights, and forcing with the stream, the fruits of their industry to every part of the world.

In giving to the general assembly information of the state of the government, and recommending to their consideration such measures as may be deemed expedient, a wide field of action must necessarily be opened, and discover the important duties devolving on the first legislature—the foundation of government is laid, to you, gentlemen, it is committed to raise the superstructure, and carry in a great measure into effect the national will.

It will, no doubt, afford you much consolation on receiving from the proper officers, a statement of our finances, in discovering that the present revenue, if wholly reserved for state purposes, is adequate to all the necessary exigencies of government; and that by a true economy, devoid of parsimony, the public faith and credit may be maintained, without any additional augmentation in consequence of that change which has taken place.

The constitution having assigned to the legislature the appointment of all the principal officers in the government, that instrument will consequently pass in review, and in due time occupy the serious attention of both houses. Under the constitution of the United States, you will also have to select two of our citizens, to represent the state in the senate of the United States, for six years, and to provide, by law, for the election of one member of the house of representatives.

The laws levying a tax on land, the principal source from whence the revenue has proceeded, expiring of themselves, you will discover the necessity of taking that subject into consideration; and as experience has pointed out the defects which have heretofore existed, you will be thereby aided in devising a system of taxation, which shall operate equally on all, and be incapable of misconstruction in favor of any, who either from design or neglect, may fail to comply with the just and necessary requisitions of government. It may also be proper to add, that under the existing laws, great neglect has been manifested by those who have alienated their lands in making the proper transfers on the books of taxation; that considerable locutions have been made by individuals in the United States' military tract in the Virginia military tract, and at some of the United States' offices, and which have never been entered for taxation, to provide for bringing all lands under the law, which are subject thereto, and to prevent embarrassments in the collections in future, are amongst the several objects which will naturally present themselves to your minds, when deliberating upon this subject. The return of the special agent, sent by the convention to congress, entrusted with certain propositions, is daily expected, and which, if acceded to by them, will affect this subject. As soon as official information is received, it shall be immediately communicated.

The constitution having made an entire change in the judiciary system necessary, it will be proper to direct your particular attention to the third article of that instrument, upon this subject.—To erect and establish courts with common law and chancery powers, with civil and criminal jurisdiction, at whose bar, life, reputation, property, and every thing dear to freemen may be at stake, as well as to fill the benches with proper characters to pronounce the law, and to provide for an impartial selection of juries, are of such vast importance in every well regulated government, as to require the utmost deliberation and caution. Under the same article it will be necessary to provide by law, for the election of a competent number of justices of the peace in each township, in the several counties, and it may be an object worthy your enquiry, whether it would not be economical and judicious, to establish them in each county into a court, to manage its internal concerns, and to regulate its general police.

Within one year after the meeting of the first legislature, it is required that an enumeration of all the white male inhabitants, above twenty-one years of age, shall be made; it will therefore be necessary, to provide by law, for the accomplishment of that object, in order that a due apportionment of senators & representatives may be assigned to each county or district.

A well regulated and disciplined militia being justly considered in every republic as its safeguard for protection & defence. I cannot but recommend to your consideration, a review of the existing laws, relative thereto. The first passed in the year 1799 is a good system, but as it was adapted to the state of the district, when the Indiana and North-Western territory were one, and much injured by a subsequent act, passed in the year 1801, which repealed that part relative to the appointment of general officers, and which the constitution now recognizes, it is suggested whether it would not be best to revive the former law, with such alterations as will make it applicable to our present situation, aided with such other improvements as you may find it susceptible of, as well as to provide for the election of its officers.

The season of the year in which you were necessarily convened, to carry the government into operation, being inconvenient to many of you, will doubtless excite a wish to curtail the present session, and devote your immediate attention to such objects as are most pressing, and more especially as there is reason to believe you will be much importuned with business of a local nature, from different parts of the state, otherwise it would have been advisable to have taken a review of all the present existing laws, many of which, from the circumstances under which they were adopted in the first, and enacted under the second grade of the territorial governments, requires much revision; one however, adopted at an early period "regulating marriages," whereby the governor is exclusively authorized to grant marriage licences, and which has been justly complained of, will, I hope, now be expunged from our code, & one better adapted to the object of its institution & more congenial to the spirit of the government, enacted in its stead.

When we consider the present prosperous situation of the United States, and contemplate our own present and future prospects, situated as we are, in a country where nature has been lavish of her favors to every part, where our soil, climate and navigable waters present to the mind of observation and contemplation, the most pleasing view and prospects of the future greatness and importance of this part of the American empire, we have much reason to render the sincere homage of grateful hearts, to that Being who has so highly favored us and every inducement for the exercise of our faculties, in improving those means now within our reach towards the happiness and prosperity of our country.—"Religion, morality and knowledge, are necessary to all good governments," lays the excellent constitution under which you are convened, and to this great truth we must all subscribe. The liberal grants of land made by the United States, for the purpose of erecting and endowing universities and other seminaries of learning, and for the support of religion, are advantages in these respects, superior to those which perhaps any other new country can boast of, to improve those means with advantage, towards the noble ends for which they were given, to preserve the public faith unimpeached, to practice economy in all public expenditures, to impose no taxes upon our citizens either for state or county purposes but what are really necessary for their honest wants, to cultivate peace and harmony with our Indian neighbours, and to exemplify both in our public acts and private life.—Every disposition towards discountenancing idleness and dissipation, and by encouraging industry, frugality, temperance and every moral virtue, are objects of such importance to our rising republic, that they cannot fail if attended to, of producing the best effects in forming for us a national character, which may be the admiration of all.—On my part, gentlemen, you may rest assured it shall be no less my honest pride than it is made my constitutional duty, cordially to co-operate with you in every measure your united wisdom and experience may devise for the public good.

EDWARD TIFFIN.
Chillicothe, March 5, 1803.
LONDON, January 8.
Our correspondent at Paris gives a further assurance of the accuracy of his information relative to the intended inauguration of Bonaparte as emperor of the Gauls—a circumstance which our readers will recollect, was first announced in this Morning Herald of Saturday last. A mail from Holland also arrived yesterday. The expedition to Louisiana is now in such a state of forwardness, that it is daily expected to sail. The proclamations and addresses which Victor is to issue on his arrival at that settlement, have been printed at the Hague.

January 13.
A letter has been received from our settlements in the Bay of Honduras, to the following effect—
"The Spaniards have suddenly warned the British settlers in the Bay of Honduras, and the other parts adjacent, to quit their settlements immediately, adding, that but little time will be granted for this order to be carried into full effect; and that orders had already been given for the erection of a large battery, from which force would be used to carry this order into full effect."
The letter concludes by recommending that no more stores be sent to that quarter for the present.

January 14.
The chief consul is certainly going to the Netherlands almost immediately, and a camp of 12,000 men is to be formed in the vicinity. The object of this measure is a secret.
A cabinet council sat on Friday or Saturday last, on business of great importance, according to the whispers in the upper circles. Whether the subject of its deliberations was intelligence received from Holland, or the news from Honduras, we know not. Important private advices from Holland were received last week respecting the designs of Bonaparte on that republic; and we know, the first of the letters from Honduras, which was received in London more than a week ago, has been laid before ministers. French funds 56.
The French, who seldom, if ever, want a pretext to support a favourite system, be its nature what it may, now pretend that Spain does not cede, but restore Louisiana to them. A writer on that subject thus expresses himself in a recent and very late publication;—"The French have been by circumstances, excluded from Louisiana since the year 1769. It is one of the most fertile and enchanting countries on the face of the globe; they have lately caused it to be given back to them; and this restitution will constitute an era highly gratifying to the feelings of the inhabitants, who, though living upwards of thirty years under a foreign domination, never ceased to be Frenchmen, nor to offer up their yearly orisons to the eternal power for the felicity of France and of her children."

January 15.
Among other reports, it is said, as soon as Bonaparte shall be declared and established emperor of the Gauls, he will be divorced from Madame Bonaparte, on the plea of state necessity, namely, that it is necessary to preserve the peace of his empire that the succession should be settled. With a view of having an heir to the imperial throne, he will marry a daughter of the prince of Baden, a most beautiful girl. By this means he will become brother-in-law to the emperor of Russia, who is married to one of the princesses of Baden; and through the Wirtemberg family, he will be even related to the king of Great Britain. Bonaparte will realize himself most wonderfully by this match. With regard to Madame Bonaparte, she will be provided for, in the handsomest manner. She will probably be made a princess, or rather, perhaps a countess of Liguria, the Valais, or some other little republic.

January 17.
A very extraordinary and important article of intelligence has been received from Milan. It states, that after the departure of the king of Etruria, a Tuscan deputation waited upon the French general, Clarke, at Florence, to express the wish of the country, that they might either be allowed to receive again the grand duke as their sovereign, or if that could not be complied with, that the first consul would be pleased to place himself at the head of the government of Tuscany, in the same manner as he is in the Italian republic. General Clarke is said to have received this deputation very favourably, and to have assured them, that he would transmit their wishes to the first consul. If this intelligence be true, Etruria will either be annexed to France, or to the Italian Republic. We recollect, that private accounts from Paris some months ago, mentioned that the chief consul was not satisfied with the conduct of his Etrurian majesty.

LIMERICK, January 8.
For some days past, various letters were received, and intelligence given, that a rising would take place in this & a neighbouring county.—On Thursday last such intelligence was received, as rendered it the duty of those entrusted with the civil and military power, to take every precaution to prevent this city from being surprised by desperate rebels—in consequence of which crowds of loyal inhabitants, with the right worshipful Mayor and Sheriffs, resorted to the exchange and remained there under arms; the non-commissioned officers of the city of Limerick regiment, under the immediate command of Col. Vereker—those of the county of Limerick regiment, under such of their officers as were in town; and the several corps of Infantry Yeomen, continued patrolling the city and suburbs all night; while the garrison, consisting of part of the tenth and 56th regiments, and a squadron of the 9th Light Dragoons, stationed at their respective posts, waited impatiently for the entry of the rebels, who prudently declined the hazardous enterprise.
On the above night, so early as 7 o'clock, a party of about fifty men, attacked the house of lieut. col. Burchier, late of the royal Irish Artillery, at Lill-ruth, near Hospital, barony of small county Limerick, and within fourteen miles of this city; on breaking into the house, the first person they met to oppose them, was a faithful servant whom the colonel brought with him, from the regiment, this man they cut and hacked with swords in a barbarous manner;—most fortunately the colonel was on this night in Limerick, and it appeared that he and his servant were the intended victims. Providence directed that lieut. M'Mahon, of the queen's German Rangers, on that evening called, and remained at col. Burchier's house, and owing to his spirited conduct, Mrs. Burchier and her children were preserved;—after entirely destroying the furniture of the house windows, &c. taking all the fire-arms with them, they broke open the stables, took thereout the colonel's six horses, three of whom were found at six o'clock next morning, on the road, by lieut. M'Mahon, on his venturing out to apprise James Gubbins, esq. a neighbouring magistrate, who with his son afforded him every assistance, but none of these deluded wretches have yet been taken—the faithful servant (whose name we do not wish to mention, having a wife in a distant part, to whom this may be the first intimation) lies in this city in a most dangerous state, attended by surgeons of the first eminence.—On the above night, some villains went to the turret of Dennis O'Brien, esq. and demolished the windows thereof. The cottagers, in the neighbourhood, though alarmed were afraid to encounter them, from their superior numbers.

FRANKFORT, March 17.
Monday last the Federal Court commenced its session in this place. The grand jury being empanelled, retired, and after some time returned, and made the following presentment.
WE the jurors of the grand jury of the United States, for the district of Kentucky, being clearly impressed with the importance of preserving the union of these states, entire, and of preserving and supporting in their fullest vigor and energy, the bands which bind them together, do declare that we receive with the utmost detestation and abhorrence, any speeches, writings or insinuations, tending to excite a spirit of discord, discontent or schism, among our citizens, toward the government of the union, and consider such as utter or make the same as enemies to the prosperity, welfare and peace of this country, and wickedly and viciously inclined to bring upon us the heavy curse of disunion, which to a young and weak country, must be utterly ruinous—do, on our oaths, present on FRANCIS FLOURNOY, of the county of Pendleton, in said district, farmer, for unlawfully commencing a written correspondence, indirectly, with the government of the French nation, which is a foreign government to that of the United States, and with intent to influence the measures and conduct of the said government of the French nation, towards the United States, and with intent to defeat the measures of the government of the said United States, relative to a certain controversy depending between the said government of the French nation and the said United States, concerning the territory of West Florida, and the island of New-Orleans, and the navigation of the river Mississippi—which said unlawful, indirect written correspondence, was commenced as aforesaid, with the intent aforesaid, and at the county and district aforesaid, on the day of February, 1803, by the said Francis Flournoy, unlawfully, and without the permission or authority of the government of the said United States—by means of a certain unlawful writing, signed "A Western American," and addressed to the printer of the Guardian of Freedom, and which said unlawful writing, the said Francis caused to be printed, and published in a newspaper, on the 2d day of March, 1803, which is filed and called the Guardian of Freedom, and is edited in the town of Frankfort, in said district, and which said unlawful writing is in tenor and effect as follows, to wit:—[Here follows the publication]—contrary to the laws of the United States, in such case provided, and against the peace and dignity thereof. This presentment made upon the knowledge of our body, and on the testimony of James M. Bradford, printer of the town of Frankfort, in the county of Franklin.

LEXINGTON, MARCH 22.

"On Saturday evening, the 12th instant, died, Mrs. MARIA TAYLOR, comfort of Mr. Wm. T. Taylor, of Jefferson county, after a long and painful illness, which she bore with fortitude and resignation to the last."

Thomas Bodley esq. is appointed clerk of the Circuit Court for this county.

In the Nelson circuit, we understand some difficulty has arisen about the appointment of a clerk—the Circuit Judge conceiving himself authorized by law to make the appointment, exercised it, by appointing Benjamin Grayson esq. The Assistant Judges, thinking themselves, as a majority of the court, equally authorized, appointed John Speed esq. Each of the clerks attend. We are told the question will come before the court of Appeals.

The share-holders in the Kentucky Vine-Yard yesterday held a meeting at the house of Capl. Postlethwait, when a sample of Kentucky wine was exhibited, which was supposed only to want age, to make it equal to any. The company will dine together this day, when they will drink their own wine.

The following information we published in a handbill on Friday night.

PORT OF ORLEANS OPEN.

NATCHEZ, February 19.

Letter from Gen. Wilkinson to the Governor.

Fort Adams, February 17, 1803, 9 o'clock P.M.

SIR,

I wrote you to-day by Lieut. Wilkinson, and inadvertently dated my letter the 18th; since which I have received a note of the morning, from Captain Shaumburg, dated Bayou-Sarah, by which I am informed, the government of Louisiana, (the Spanish government) has given permission for the deposit of all kinds of provisions in New-Orleans, on paying 6 per cent duty. I make this communication to you by express, for the interest of those who adventure and deserve, and think it should have publicity as soon as possible.

With perfect consideration and respect, I am, Sir, your obt. servt.

J. A. WILKINSON.

His Excellency Gov. Claiborne.

NEW DISCOVERIES.

Captain Ray, of the American ship Hope, on the 22d of December, 1801, discovered an island about seven leagues in length, in 25 deg. south lat. and 166 deg. 21 minutes east long. The island appeared to be well covered with wood, but he could not approach sufficiently near to distinguish whether or not it was inhabited. Four days after, in 5, 45, north lat. and 163, 40, long. saw another island, about four leagues in length, but the want of competent boats prevented his further discovery. Neither of these islands are marked on any map or chart. Capt Ray, on leaving America, proceeded to Fulkland's island, where he remained six months, and was successful in getting skins; he then went to the island of South Georgia, and staid three months there. He then attempted to proceed to China round Cape Horn, but after beating about for sixty days, he was obliged to abandon the enterprise, and to put into Port D-fire, on the coast of Patagonia, and afterwards return to the river la Plata, where he remained three months to dry his skins. He next touched at port Jackson, and in his passage thence to Canton (where he disposed of his skins to great advantage) he made the discovery in question.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 4.

On Wednesday the house sat till half past 4, and then adjourned to 6 in the evening, and continued sitting till past 10—Yesterday there were two sittings, the last of which closed the constitutional period of the body.

Among the most important business transacted were—the passage of the bill from the Senate, authorizing a detachment of 80,000 militia; for which purpose one million and a half of dollars are appropriated—twenty five thousand dollars are appropriated for building arsenals on the Western Waters.

The impeachment of John Pickens, district judge of New Hampshire, for high crimes, and misdemeanors which was agreed to by a great majority.

The passage of the militia bill respecting the district of Columbia.

The passage of the bill for continuing the Mint for five years.

On motion of Mr. Varbum, the following resolutions were agreed to by unanimous vote, the Yeas and Nays being called to record the unanimity of the house.

Resolved that the thanks of this house be presented to Nathaniel Macon, in testimony of their approbation of his conduct in discharging the arduous and important duties assigned him while in the chair.

The house met last evening at 6 o'clock; when after transacting various business, a quarter before twelve o'clock an adjournment took place sine die.

The next meeting of congress will be on the first Monday in November.

SINGULARITY.

A late Newark (New-Jersey) paper, says—"A short time since a foetus of a very novel and curious construction was taken from a Sow belonging to Mr. Jotham Baldwin of this town. It had two pair of ears and but one eye, which shuts horizontally, and is placed in the middle of the forehead. The head, ears and neck, in shape resemble that of an Elephant. From the top of the skull projects a horn, in a horizontal direction, overhanging the eye. Another horn, but shorter projects from the upper jaw—and the end of the lower jaw somewhat resembles the chin of a human being. The hoofs are cloven, but turn up at the ends as if feared by fire.—The body and legs, are those of a hog. This extraordinary production is now in the possession of Mr. William Gardner."

FROM THE GLASGOW COURIER.

Mr. Printer,

The following important communication from an eminent physician in London, in relation to a mode of cure, practised with success, in a disease perhaps one of the most baneful that ever afflicted the human race, has recently come to my knowledge; and as I have reason to believe my information is authentic, and confirmed by the fact of the remedy prescribed having been found, in one instance in this country, to prove completely successful, I deem it an indispensable duty to lay it before the public, through the channel of your paper; and earnestly hope that it may be the blessed means of extirpating from the face of the earth such a calamitous disease, which has of late years become so very prevalent.

I am &c.

CIVIS

While I was at Smyrna, there was a girl afflicted with a cancer in her lips, and the gum was affected. The European physicians consulted on the measures to be taken, and agreed that they saw no other method than to cut it out; and the girl had already submitted herself to that decision. By an accident of that nature which men cannot account for, an old Armenian came to them, just in time to prevent the application of the knife—"Do nothing," I will cure her;" and when he had pledged himself strongly, the physicians consented.

He procured a copper vessel, newly tinned in the inside, (an essential circumstance) and having poured a certain quantity of olive oil into it, he made it boil over a small fire, sufficiently to keep it gently agitated, and so for three times in twenty-four hours: with this the oil retolved itself to the consistency of an ointment; and, by constantly rubbing the part affected, he cured her in fourteen days. Nothing else was done.

The physicians supposed that the oil received its virtue from the tin, and that it was communicated by its long boiling over the fire.

THE SHARE-HOLDERS

IN the Kentucky Insurance Company, are hereby notified to meet at the Company's office, in Lexington, on the first day of April next, at 12 o'clock, in order to elect a President and Directors, to continue in office for one year from the first day of April next, and to agreeably to the 6th section of the act, intitled "An Act to incorporate the Kentucky Insurance Compa-

WHERE
Virginia assembly passed prior to the session of the district of Kentucky into a State, the Transylvania seminary was endowed with one sixth part of all surveyors' fees in the district aforesaid; and it being doubtful in what court the trustees of the said Transylvania seminary, now established the Transylvania university, ought to proceed for the recovery of said fees from delinquent surveyors—for remedy whereof.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly, that all surveyors throughout this commonwealth, shall settle their accounts with the trustees of the Transylvania university, and pay one sixth part of all fees they may have received, or shall hereafter receive on those original surveys and entries, to one sixth of the fees on which the said trustees may be entitled to by law, as well those who are now in office, as those who have been surveyors and are now out of office.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, that all surveyors, heretofore or now in office, who shall settle according to the directions of this act, shall not be liable to any further penalty or damage on account of their not complying with the original laws which gave one sixth part of the surveyors' fees to the Transylvania seminary.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, that the trustees of the Transylvania university, shall cause this act to be published three times in all the newspapers in this State, prior to the first day of April next.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful after the expiration of six months from the passage of this act, for the trustees of the Transylvania university to move against any delinquent surveyor, as well those in office, as those who have heretofore been in office, and have not settled the respective amount due the said trustees, in the general court in Frankfort, in the same manner as the auditor is directed to move against delinquent sheriffs in this commonwealth; and the said general court shall have competent jurisdiction to hear all such motions, to give judgments and award executions as in similar cases.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, that all surveyors' fees shall hereafter be reduced to one sixth upon all original surveys; and no part of the surveyors' fees for services heretofore to be performed, shall from henceforth be payable to the trustees of the Transylvania university.

This act shall be in force from its passage.

CURIOUS DISCOVERY.

PARIS, OCT. 6, 1802.

The use which citizen Potel had made of the oxygenated muriatic acid gas, in the establishment he had formed for bleaching linen, has led him by chance,
to the discovery of a fact highly interesting to humanity. He was in his laboratory, when they laid down on a table on which this gas was, rats that had just been taken out of the water, drowned. A moment after, the rats disappeared, and hid themselves in a corner of the room, one only remained near the apparatus. It was restored to life again, but had not been able to follow the others, because its paws were broken. Citizen
P. having taken them again, asphyxiated them anew, submitting them under the action of the gas, and saw them brot to life again. He tried several times this experiment on cats; at last, like Storch who tried on himself the power of the hemlock, this young man tried on himself the efficacy of this new means.
His boldness was crowned with success.
The academy of Dijon have nominated commissioners in order to determine in an undeniable manner the property of this gas in the asphyxia.

Public the following

PROPOSALS

For publishing it by subscription.

The work will be faithfully composed under the inspection of Judge Washington himself, principally from the original papers bequeathed to him by the deceased General. On its correctness the most entire confidence may be placed.

The life of this illustrious Citizen necessarily comprises so large and interesting a portion of the history of this country, that the work,
it was conceived, would be rendered much more complete, as well as much more gratifying to the reader,
by connecting with it some general
account of the origin and progress of the People, who were conducted under his auspices, from dependent colonies to self-government.

A compendious view, therefore,
will be taken, by way of introduction to the Life of General Washington, of the settlements of the Europeans in North America, and of the advance of the British colonies from their feeble and infantine condition,
until they attained that state of manhood, when, with arms in their hands, they asserted and established their Independence.

Various circumstances have delayed the execution of the work; but it is now in considerable forwardness,
and will soon be ready for the press.
—Bond with security has been given that it shall be published.

CONDITIONS:

The work shall be handsomely printed, with a new type, on vellum paper, to be comprised in four or five octavo volumes, of from 450
to 500 pages each, and embellished with a variety of plans and charts, of those parts of the country which were the scenes of the most important events during the American revolution.

The first volume will contain an elegant portrait of the deceased General, engraved by one of the best artists in this country, from an original painting by the celebrated Stuart.

The price to subscribers will be Three Dollars each volume, in boards; and the price of one volume to be paid at the time of subscribing; this advance to be continued with each volume until the whole is completed. The price to non-subscribers will be three Dollars and fifty cents per volume, in boards.

A few copies will be hot-pressed,
price three dollars and fifty cents per volume to subscribers, payable in advance, and four dollars to non-subscribers.

An edition will be printed in three volumes quarto, hot-pressed, elegantly bound, gilt and lettered, price ten dollars per volume to subscribers, payable in advance,
and twelve dollars to non-subscribers.

The work will be put to press as early as the requisite arrangements
can be made.

Any gentleman who obtains and becomes accountable for fifteen subscribers, shall be entitled to one copy for his trouble.

The names of subscribers
will be published, but no subscription will be received after the publication of the first volume.

Those who wish to be possessed of this invaluable history, will do well to transmit their names early. In the country, and in small villages,
an union can take place among all who mean to subscribe, and in one letter several names may be forwarded, specifying the number of copies, and enclosing the requisite advance money.

FOR SALE

For Cash, or on Credit,
2000 Acres of LAND,

Situate, lying and being in the county of Bourbon, in the forks of Brush creek and Hinkston near Millersburg, entered on a military warrant early in 1780, surveyed and patented in the name of Joseph Chew,
and by said Chew, conveyed in trust to Robert and John Watts, of the city of New-York. The good quality and convenient situation of this tract of Land is so generally known, that a particular description would be unnecessary, as it is presumable
those inclined to purchase will examine it. It will be divided if required.

The subscriber will sell it at private sale, and if not disposed of sooner, it will be offered publicly at the Paris District court in March next,
where the title papers by application
may be seen, and due attendance will be given by

H. TAYLOR, Attorney for Robt. & John Watts.
30th Oct. 1802.

stake, thence South 13 poles to Samuel Jameson's corner of his out lot, thence West 49 poles with his line to a stake, thence North to the beginning—also the house & lot formerly occupied by Abraham Thompson, and lately by Samuel Cook, situate in said town—also, one moiety of that tract of land, containing 333 acres lying on Sellers' and Fleet runs, waters of the South Fork of Licking—also two lots or parcels of ground lying in the said town of Cynthiana, being numbered 5 and 20,
being half-acre lots—also, a moiety
of lots numbered 13 & 14, being half-acre lots, situate in said town—also all that lot or parcel of ground, adjoining the said town, on the East side, being numbered 3, containing 4 acres—and also, all that tract or parcel of land, containing 666 2-3 acres, situate and lying and being in Hardin county, on the West Branch of Bear creek, the second big branch
below a large Clay Lick on the said

IN DISPUTE.

By JAMES HUGHES.

Proposals for publishing this work
by subscription, were circulated nearly two years ago, under the signature of Thomas Todd and James Hughes, it having been the intention of Colonel Todd, to join in the work.

In order to enable Mr. Bradford, to know who to deliver books to as subscribers, it will be necessary for those Gentlemen who have subscription papers to forward them to him.

This volume contains the Causes decided from the establishment of the District Court on the Western waters, to the end of the March Term of the Court of Appeals, in the year 1801.

The Author is preparing materials for a second volume, which will probably be published in the beginning of the next year.
